

Wednesday 22 April Day 24 of the garden journal

22/04/2020

Red mason bees have found the home that my grandson Jake made for me last year. As you can see, some of the hollows canes have been sealed up with eggs laid inside. Hoping for more!

Gill Buttle

22/04/2020

That looks interesting (Gill's bee hotel)... I think I'll get Terry to make us one!! We have a log pile... which we don't use... because it is such a good habitat for all sorts of creatures... also can't light a fire... we have birds nesting in the chimney!! Lucky it's so warm!

Carol Glasson

22/04/2020

Respite from the relentless east wind for the young leaves of the copper beech, resting now in the afternoon sun.

Ian Andrews

