

Friday 3 April Day 5 of the garden journal

No one was inspired today perhaps due to dull chilly weather.

Saturday 4 April Day 6 of the garden journal

Warm sun, clear blue sky and photos today.

04/04/2020

Tis the season to be jolly

Bob and June Harris

04/04/2020

Lithodora diffusa enjoying the sunshine. I can see why the variety was named 'Heavenly Blue'.

Libby Rothwell

04/04/2020

A couple of happy camellias which waited to bloom until after the frost.

Vivien Ford

04/04/2020

This also looks out of season, like a fire in today's glorious sunshine, but it is in fact the spring colour of this acer which turns lime green as the seasons progress.

Vivien Ford

04/04/2020

Last of the parsnips pulled up today and some purple sprouting. Still a little bit more of that to come.

Gill Buttle

04/04/2020

Tulips from Dexter

Philippa Strickland

04/04/2020

Cannot remember the name, from Rye market, devoured by beetles last year.

Philippa Strickland

04/04/2020

The amelanchier was buzzing with tiny insects this afternoon.

Sandy Andrews

