

Wednesday 01 July Day 91 of the garden journal

01/07/2020

Clematis viticella flore plena...

Vivien Ford

01/07/2020

...I've been taking pics of this particular bloom since 18th June.

Vivien Ford

01/07/2020

...

Vivien Ford

01/07/2020

...

Vivien Ford

01/07/2020

...

Vivien Ford

01/07/2020

It's all about vibrant colours at this time of year - especially after some much needed rain.

Lavender (the bee is Lassioglossum species)...

Alan Kenworth

01/07/2020

...and a Crocosmia that I have forgotten the name of. I always think it's a shame that the first florets are dying before the last ones have flowered. It must be something to do with pollinating efficiency.

Alan Kenworthy